String Trio
Gives Concert
Cincinnati Trio
Feature Musicale

By Gasey Goman

The Cincinnati College of Music String Trio will present the second of the 1946 Sunday afternoon musicale programs at 4 p.m. in Memorial hall.

The members of the trio are Betty Jean Shirey, violinist; Elizabeth Wilber, cellist; and Marjorie Garrigue, pianist.

Miss Shirey is a brilliant musician who will receive her BM degree in June. Coming to the College of Music after two years in Wittenberg college, Miss Shirey continued her studies of the violin with Mr. Sigmund Effron. During the past two seasons she has appeared as soloist with the College of Music symphony orchestra and on frequent occasions has appeared in concerts and recitals in Cincinnati and surrounding cities. She is gifted not only as a soloist but also as an ensemble player of unusual sensitivity.

Miss Wilber is a graduate of Wichita University. She played three summer seasons with the Tulsa, Okla., symphony and later toured South America with the All-American Youth orchestra under the direction of Leopold Stokowski. During the past three years she has continued her study of the cello at the college with Walter Heermann.

She appeared as soloist with the Cincinnati symphony orchestra during the season of 1944-45 on one of the Young People's symphony concerts, and she has been heard frequently as soloist with the College of Music symphony orchestra of which she is a regular member.

Mme. Garrigue has appeared extensively in concert both in Europe and America. Her debut in Paris was hailed as one of the notable events of the season and she was later acclaimed in London where she played in Wigmore Hall and New York when she made her Town Hall debut.

Mme. Garrigue, a native of Kokomo, Ind., made her first public appearance when she was nine. At the conclusion of her high school studies, she was awarded a scholarship to study with Marcell Thaler in Cincinnati and later continued her studies of piano forte under the guidance of Harold Bauer in New York. In private life, she is the wife of Fred Smith, managing executive of the College of Music of Cincinnati.

Sunday's program will include: Pieces de Clavecin en Concerte—La Rameau, La Bucon, L'Agacante—Rameau.

Twelve Preludes (selected), Chopin, by Marjorie Garrigue.

Trio in C minor, Op. 101, Allegro Energico, Presto non assai, Andante grazioso, Allegro Molto, Brahms.

Dorothy Gray Agent
Conducts Beauty Bar

"Convincing girls that beauty, good grooming and an attractive personality are the result of good daily habits, and cannot be achieved overnight in time for a Saturday dance," is the job of Miss Dorothy Gray representative who is conducting a make-up bar February 11-13 under the sponsorship of Alpha Lambda Delta.

The bar will be set up in the game room of Jewell Hall and Miss Osborne will grant individual interviews.

All girls wishing to sign check, up conferences are asked to see Mrs. Dorothy Evans in the Union or sign up in Jewell Hall. A charge of 15c will be made. Mrs. Evans stated.

Conference times are Monday, 9-10 a.m. and 7:30-8:30 p.m.; Tuesday, 10-11 a.m. and 7:30-8:30 p.m.; Wednesday, 11-12 a.m. and 7:30-8:30 p.m.

Huguette Balzola

WSSF Goal
Is $2,500

Miss Huguette Balzola, University graduate and present traveling secretary for the World Student Service Fund was on the campus this week conferring with leaders of the UK WSSF drive slated to open February 18.

Miss Balzola who graduated last year was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board and YWCA. Her home is in Mexico.

Over-all campus chairman for the WSSF drive is Ed Bary, YMCA president and Arts and Sciences senior from Bellevue.

Personal solicitation, designed to reach every student on the campus, will last from February 18 through February 22, Bary announced. Speakers at YM and YW meetings that week will emphasize the work of the organization which is helping dislocated students and faculty in foreign countries to return to their universities, providing medical aid for European and Chinese students injured by war, and making it possible for impoverished students in all war-ravaged countries to resume their studies.

Other members of Bary's all-campus WSSF committee are: Betty Lee Fleishman, YWCA president; Mildred Long, Kewell editor; Charles Gardner, SGA president; Paul Sands, Independent president; Bill Sullivan, Interfraternity council president; Betty Ann Brauer, Mortar Board president; Joe Covington, Veterans' club president; and Frances Street, Panhellenic president; Emily Jones, Student Union Board president; and Carolyn McMeekin, Cwens president.

Representing the YW cabinet is Edna Crawford, and Lola Stokes is SuKy representative. A secretary and a publicity chairman remain to be named.

Goal of the all-student solicitation is 2,500 according to Bary. After the week-long drive beginning Feb. 18, major campus organizations will sponsor events in the spring quarter with proceeds earmarked for the WSSF fund.

Cooperstown Home
Destroyed By Fire

Members of the Veterans' club have donated $133 to Virgil P. Lary, Jr., and his family, whose belongings were destroyed by fire last Saturday night in Cooperstown.

The fire, which was caused by an overheated stove, was reported at 10:47 p.m. Saturday night, and neighbors of the Lary family formed a "bucket brigade" and fought the fire before the city fire department arrived at the scene.

No fire prevention measures have been made in Cooperstown to this date, according to E. B. Farris, head of the University Maintenance and Operations department, but plans are being made to equip the village with fire plugs and alarm boxes.

Donovan Adresses
Joint Committee

President Donovan spoke to the combined Senate and House appropriations committees of the General Assembly in Frankfort Tuesday in behalf of the University's request for more than $5,000,000 for the school's operations in the next two years.

Donovan termed the request "a modest one," asked for $2,874,280 for the fiscal year 1946-47, and $2,955,010 for 1947-48. He said the appropriation would cover research, operation, building repairs and capital outlay for the period.

Students To Choose
Most Popular Man

By Jim Wood

The party that gets there "fastest with the mostest" voters will probably elect the most popular man on the campus when students go to the polls at the annual Student Union Board dance, which will be held tomorrow night in the Bluegrass room of the Union building.

All students must vote by 10:15 if they wish their choice to be tabulated. The dance is from 9 to 12.

Although students will split their votes among six candidates—three from the Independent and three from the Constitutionalist party—the political group that rallies the most voters to the dance will probably take the most popular man honors.

Candidates elected by the two parties at separate meetings January 31 are:

Independents—Wash Serini, Tuckahoe, N. Y.; Jim Brock, Cooperstown (University housing unit), and Howard Stewart, Hartford, Ky.

Constitutionalists—Charley Gardner, Phi Delta Theta, Louisville; Cornell Clarke, Sigma Phi Epsilon, New Mexico, and Howard Stephenson, Pi Kappa Alpha, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

In pre-war years pages were devoted in the Kentuckian both to the most popular man and the Kentuckian beauty queen, however this year no page will be made available because page forms have already been prepared, according to Lillian Davis, Kentuckian editor.

Last most popular man contest was held in 1942 when Albert J. Spare, Triangle, Covington, Ky., and Carl Staker, Independent, Maysville, Ky., received the honors.

A man from each party was named to the title that year. Of the present candidates, Jim Brock is the only married one, and he is the father of a young daughter.

Decorations for the dance will include huge hearts with the names of the candidates in each. One larger heart will dominate the decorations and will be "broken through" by the winner and the Kentuckian beauty queen, Miss Sylvia Mayer, who was presented at the recent Veterans' club dance.

Chaperones will be Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes, Dean of Men T. T. Jones, Dean and Mrs. M. M. White, Dr. and Mrs. Adolph Biggs, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Dantzer, and the house mothers of the sororities, fraternities and residence houses of the University.

University Places
Enrollment Quota
On Non-Residents

"The University will be forced to restrict the enrollment of new non-resident students, beginning with the spring quarter of the current year," according to an announcement released Wednesday by the office of the registrar and signed by Dean and Registrar Leo M. Chamberlain.

The intention will be to hold the non-resident UK enrollment to a maximum of 15 per cent of the total anticipated enrollment for each quarter. Applications will be held in abeyance until specified dates, at which time the quotas will be filled.

For the spring quarter the out-of-state enrollment will be held to an estimated 600, based on 4,000 students, anticipated enrollment for the spring quarter.

The restriction became necessary because of "housing conditions in Lexington and the lack of adequate facilities." Dates for filling quotas each quarter are: spring, February 25; summer, May 10; and fall, August 1.

Kentuckians Apply
For Fellowships

Three Kentuckians have applied for fellowships offered by the Southern Regional Training Program, according to Dr. James W. Martin, of the commerce college, and a member of the committee which promotes the program.

No University of Kentucky students have applied.

The fellowships are offered on a competitive basis. Each applicant must have an AB degree from an accredited college or university and must meet certain requirements on examination.

Each fellowship, which is worth approximately $750 plus all university fees, includes three months in a government office in Frankfort, Nashville, Tenn., or Montgomery, Ala., and one quarter at the Universities of Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama.

The purpose of this program, Dr. Martin said, is to give persons efficiency in government administration as soon as possible. "The primary function of the program," he said, "is to improve government administration in the southern states by making contributions to improve leadership in young men and women throughout the South."

Donovan Asks Inquiry After Four Vets Petition AssemblyVet Club Appoints
Investigating Group

By Clayton Roland

Appointment of an investigating committee and a report of the legislative committee's trip to Frankfort last week, highlighted the Monday night meeting of the University Veterans' club.

A committee of six veterans was appointed to investigate charges against the University made by four students recently and sent to the Kentucky General Assembly. A motion to endorse the letter containing the charges was not passed after the matter was discussed. The committee was instructed to bring in documentary evidence that there is reason for an investigation before any action will be taken by the club.

The active legislative committee reported on its trip to Frankfort last Wednesday. They laid the ground-work for the introduction of a bill in the legislature to pay additional subsistence allowance to Kentucky veterans qualifying and attending school under Public Laws 16 and 346. Under the plan, single veterans would be paid ten dollars monthly by the state while married veterans would receive thirty-five dollars per month.

Election Monday

Activities of the University Veterans' club, one of the largest organizations on the campus, have increased to a remarkable extent in the past several weeks and these efforts of the present administration will culminate next Monday night when the club holds its annual election of officers. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Union building.

Announcement as to the time of the election was made two weeks ago by Commander Joe Covington in compliance with provisions of the newly-adopted constitution. Six officers, including president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, sergeant-at-arms and chaplain, along with a faculty advisor, will be elected at this important meeting. Nomination of candidates for these offices will be received from the floor on the night of the meeting.

The change in the titles of officers is also a result of the new constitution. It is believed the club has chosen to steer away from the "military caste" titles and has adopted those usually associated with more "democratic" organizations.

Brock Boosts Plan

James C. Brock, Harlan, legislative committee chairman, is leader of the fight for increased veterans allowances.

Some states have passed bonus laws and two bonus bills have already been introduced at the present session of the Kentucky General Assembly. One would pay all Kentucky veterans a $500 bonus while the other places the amount at $50. Mr. Brock added that the committee was gaining wide support of various organizations throughout the state and he hoped the bill could be introduced in the legislature early next week.

Committee members making the trip to Frankfort were Mr. Brock of Harlan; Joe Covington, Bowling Green; Ed Gabbard, Harrodsburg; Thomas Jackson, Beaver Dam; Spurgeon DeWitt, Fort Thomas; Vance Johns, Louisville, and Bill Padon, Salem.

Advance Ball Sales

Advance sales on tickets for the informal spring dance which will feature a big name band will start Monday in the Union building, according to Dick Hundley, who is in charge of arrangements.

If enough tickets are not sold all money will be refunded to the students, Hundley said. Tickets will be $3.50 stag and $5.00 with drag.

Holcomb Heads
Men's Honorary

Morris F. Holcomb, Arts and Sciences senior from Warsaw, Ky., was elected president of Nu Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary for senior men, at a meeting held Tuesday in the Union building. Prof. R. D. McIntyre announced. Holcomb, a former Army captain, is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

A faculty committee composed of Prof. R. D. McIntyre, Dr. H. H. Downing, and Dr. M. M. White was appointed by Holcomb to recommend undergraduate candidates for membership in the organization. Men who are members of the senior class, have a scholastic average of at least 1.5, and have shown qualities of leadership in campus activities, will be considered as candidates.

Omicron Delta Kappa was founded Dec. 3, 1914, at Washington and Lee University. It has 52 active chapters in American universities and colleges. Nu Circle was established in May, 1925, on the University campus.

The purpose of the society is to recognize and honor men who have attained all-around leadership in college and university life to the end that the most representative leaders in all phases of campus activities co-operate in a worth-while endeavor and join with faculty members on a basis of mutual interest and understanding. Professor McIntyre said.

Valentine's Day
Sweater Swing

First sweater swing of the winter quarter will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. this afternoon in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union building.

This hop will feature the Valentine motif—"hearts and flowers, boys and girls, get your man." The dance is being sponsored by the house committee of the Student Union board, of which Gwen Pace is chairman. Virginia Schaufele is in charge of decorations, and Marian Salisbury will select the chaperons.

For music the committee has obtained an unusual program through the courtesy of John K. Boyle, of the University Recording and Broadcasting company, Long Island City, N. Y.

Mr. Boyle is on the campus making recordings of sorority and fraternity songs, as well as programs by music majors. His organization has a private collection of recordings by name bands which will be played at the sweater swing.

YW Cabinet Holds
Second In Series
Of Residence Talks

The second in a series of residence hall discussions sponsored by the YWCA cabinet was held Monday night at Elmside. The subject of the series is "Kentucky Education" and Betty Lee Fleishman, president of the YWCA, led the discussion.

The purpose of the discussion groups is to present facts about Kentucky and to make the campus aware of conditions as they exist. The plan, which is under the direction of Eleanor Bennett, chairman of the YW student and industry committee, is to hold the discussions at every dormitory, residence unit and sorority house on the campus. The first discussion of the series was held last quarter at the Sigma Nu house.

President Asks
Legislature Probe

Charges made by four University students to the Kentucky General Assembly that Dean James H. Graham of the College of Engineering was responsible for poorly-constructed campus buildings will be given a closed hearing at 9 a.m. February 19 in the House chamber, according to Representative Roy Arnold, Danville Democrat.

President Donovan this week invited legislators to visit the campus and conduct their own investigation of the charges leveled by the four students in a letter mimeographed by them and circulated among members of the General Assembly last Thursday.

Arnold Heads Committee

Representative Arnold who introduced a resolution to investigate whether or not the charges were true, was named by Speaker of the House Waterfield to be chairman of the committee. Other representatives named to the committee were: Mary E. Burnett, Lexington; Thomas A. Noe, Jr., Russellville; Harry F. Walters, Shelbyville, all Democrats, and Republican floor leader E. R. Denny, Mt. Vernon.

Arnold said the four students who circulated the letter, Robert W. Meagher, William S. Riley, Murphy C. Combs and R. T. Scott, University President H. L. Donovan, Dean Graham, and Comptroller Frank D. Peterson would be asked to testify.

The University Veterans' club named six members to investigate the charges from the campus viewpoint. Although the letter itself was presented for approval by the club, President Joe Covington said the group did not endorse it.

The letter denounced as leaky, ill-ventilated and otherwise unfit, buildings at the University and elsewhere, including the main building at La Grange, for which it charged Dean Graham was responsible. It also pointed to the earmarking of $1,000,000 of state surplus for a field house at the University, and asked whether the Board of Trustees, if it has the decision to make, would put that first or would instead improve living quarters of returned servicemen at the University.

UK Dames To Hear
Home Demonstrator

The U of K Dames will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Music room of the Union to hear Miss Mary E. Collins, home demonstration agent, speak on menu planning and one-dish dinners. Dot Evans, social chairman of the Union, announced today.

A social hour will follow the business meeting and speaker.

QUESTION: WHAT SPECIFIC SUBJECTS WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE DISCUSSED AT AN OPEN CLASS DURING THE SPRING QUARTER?

Billie Dale, A&S, junior: A class on the possibilities of future world peace by Vandenberg.

D. A. Thomas, Engineering, freshman: What chemistry has to offer for the next ten years.

Emily Steel, A&S, sophomore: Something about bridge.

Bill Martin, A&S, sophomore: Sex.

Annabel Sergeant, A&S, sophomore: How to get a man!

Dick Howard, A&S, senior: Funk-houser to give a lecture on the Eskimos or Indians in the North and how they live.

Sarah Smith, A&S, junior: World affairs.

Lloyd Bell, A&S, junior: Religion.

Betty Ree Rhoads, A&S, sophomore: A simplified edition of radar and atomic energy.

Dave Phillips, Engineering, sophomore: Possibilities of chemical engineering and plastics.

Bill Spragens, A&S, sophomore: Discussions of new developments, particularly in scientific subjects, should attract a great deal of interest.

Ella Rose Crume, Agriculture, sophomore: Future, boy-future!

Bettie Tuttle, Arts and Sciences, sophomore: What to do when you have a date and the one and only one in your life comes home! The same night of course.

Betty Tevis, A&S, senior: Kentucky's future possibilities by the political science department.

Former UK Student At Auburn

Miss Huguette Balzola, native of Paris, France, and a graduate of the University, will open the World Student Service Fund drive on the Auburn campus this week. She will speak in fraternity and dormitory dining halls.

Late last fall Miss Balzola returned from Europe, where she had spent the summer under the auspices of the WSSP.

Next week, she will be here to help the University in its drive for $2,500 to aid reconstruction and rehabilitation of university life in Europe.

Cub Reporter:
The cub reporter's first assignment on the Oakdale Journal at Oakdale, La., was to report on a wedding, but he did not return to the office until the next morning—"Why didn't we get a report from you?" demanded the irate editor.

"There was nothing to report," was the airy reply. "The bridegroom was killed in a car wreck on the way to the church, the bride died from shock, there was no wedding; so I just went home."

Education Steps Forward:
By a vote of 135 to 10, the faculty of Arts and Sciences of Harvard University has approved the program of general education proposed by the University's Committee on Objectives, and embodied in the report "General Education in a Free Society," which was published by the University in June. Essentially, the program seeks to provide a broader cultural foundation for college education.

The plan provides not less than two nor more than four alternative basic general education courses in each of the areas of the humanities, the social sciences and the natural sciences.

When the program is finally established, all students will be required to take, normally in freshman and sophomore years, three of the basic courses, one in each of the areas. In addition, the student will be required to elect three more advanced or middle-group general education courses selected by the Committee on General Education from courses now offered by the departments or new courses to be especially created.

The plan of general education does not alter the system of concentration and specialization at Harvard, but provides additional courses believed to be of value for all students. It was built upon theory that education should "fit students for common spheres of interest which they must share with others in a democratic world." The program holds that society rests upon common beliefs and, methods of thought and that a major task of education is to preserve and to enhance these beliefs and methods.

Advice for Freshies:
Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa, offers this bit of advice for Freshmen only—you above that status have long since learned it.

"If a girl looks young, She's old. If she looks Old, she's young. If she Looks around, follow her."

We hope they will satisfy, We honestly, truly do."
After eating the cookies, Dr. Saposnikow answered like this: "To my charming students—with grateful remembrance: The cookies were nice, Full of raisins and spice, Your action so spacious That it were ungracious To sneer at your rhymes Tho' they're capital crimes. But how unlike me to swallow the food, And not to distinguish the had from the good."

Bats:
"Bats have their own special echo radar system," states Dr. George O. Hendrickson of the Department of Zoology at Iowa State college, as a result of his study of bats.

Radar, the coined name for "radio detection and ranging," is a technique for detecting objects by means of radio wave echoes. A bat sends out high pitched cries, too high for humans to hear, and when the tones strike some object in his path, no matter whether it is as large as a hill or as small as a single strand of wire, warning signals or echoes are reflected back, enabling him to change his course.

The Varsity Show

By Hugh Collett

ON THE VARSITY: Adolph Rupp, "the man in the brown suit," started his basketball career in 1909, while attending grade school in Halstead, Kan. He explains that his interest in the sport was aroused by his hometown high school's winning the first two Kansas state championships.

The "Baron," as we have come to know Coach Rupp, began his college career at the University of Kansas in 1919, the same year that Dr. Phog Allen, still rated as one of the nation's top coaches, took over his position as cage coach there.

After his graduation, Rupp headed toward Marshalltown, Iowa, to take over his first coaching position. From there, he journeyed to Freeport, Ill., where he tutored high school cagers for four years.

In 1930, Adolph Rupp received a bid from the University of Kentucky, and he decided to accept the offer. His record from that time to this is history.

During his sixteen years at UK, the "Baron" has tutored five all-Americans; he has spurred his team to win 275 games while losing only 64; his teams have lost only eight games on their home floor; he won the highest honor in the basketball world—election to the basketball hall of fame, being the tenth coach so honored in the entire history of the sport.

Rupp, still a farmer at heart, owns a farm out of Lexington and visits it from time to time.

From the performance of this year's Wildcats, there is no doubt but that Kentucky will receive bids to the two national tournaments. Coach Rupp stated that, if he get a bid, he will attend the National Invitational tournament in Madison Square Garden this spring.

CAVIAR: To the Union Board for seeing the possibilities in securing a big name band for the spring formal. With the proper student backing, they promise to bring to our campus a name band like Dorsey, Herman, or Kaye.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Who will be voted most popular man on the campus?

THE FOLLOWING BALLAD was written by a UK student and submitted to his English prof. We, in turn, pass it on to you for your approval:

THE WEAK GREEK
O, Joe and Jane, a boy and girl
Were freshmen at UK.
They thought they'd try the social whirl;
They did it just this way:

O, Jane she pledged to Beta Xi
A faire sorority
And Joe from Alpha Chol* took a pin.
The best fraternity.

They both were satisfied full well
With their good social gain.
The Alpha Chols had a party gay.
Joe had a date with Jane

As time wore on he liked her more,
And she the same did him;
And so, the first thing Joe knew
Jane wore an Alpha Chol pin.

But Joe to his dismay soon found
That Jane was not full true.
For one night at Rose street he saw
His girl and Chi Eps two.

Now Joe had asked Jane for a date
But to him she had lied.
"I have to study late," she said.
"An English test," she sighed.

He bribed the waitress for to put

Some poison in their beer,
And then from Jane he grabbed his pin.

"Goodbye to you, my dear!"
Then to the near by bar he flew
To drown his sorrows stag.
And next day out at old UK
At half-mast flew the flag.

Now, freshmen, listen to this tale
Of women, wine and song.
"Don't ever pin a Beta Xi
For she will do you wrong."

But to your Alpha Chol pledge be true
Go with a Beta Gam.
When she your pin returns to you,
You just don't give a damn!

What Can The Matter Be?

An attack on University policies by four law students was circulated among members of the General Assembly last Friday. A committee hearing to investigate the charges has been set for February 19, and Dr. Donovan, Dean Graham, and Mr. Peterson will be among those asked to appear.

The mimeographed copies denounced the buildings at the University as leaky, ill-ventilated and otherwise unfit. Pointed to the $1,000,000 which has been tagged for the field house and asked whether the Board of Trustees, if it has the decision to make, would put that first or would first improve the living quarters of returned service men at the University.

Student veterans are housed in the gymnasium "under stable-like conditions," the letter asserted. "If those who run the University can create a corporation to accept tax-exempt gifts for a great athletic program, why can't they raise money for a field house that way?" it continued.

Now, we 3,500 or so other students who are not complaining would like to ask of these four young lawyers, "Just what is your policy?" What is to be gained from bringing charges—some of them old and long since worn from use—at the very time when the University most needs the good will and help of legislators in building for the future?

So the veterans were quartered in the gym. Most of them were glad to have a place provided for them to stay so that they could come on to school while waiting for Kinkaid hall to be vacated by the Army. As an emergency and purely temporary measure this was the best the University could do to accommodate the ex-service men and the majority of them appreciate the fact. The women residents are living under crowded conditions, too. It is to ease the housing problem that plans have been made for building dormitories.

There may be room for criticism of the buildings—ventilation particularly—most recently constructed on the campus, but the faults don't warrant the means of attack. Many do not think the style of architecture is harmonious with that of the older buildings—but need such be dragged through the state legislature?

Are these lawyers getting practice for their profession or personal publicity? It is hard to see what they expect to gain for the University. The best interests and views of the campus Veterans' club certainly are not represented.

Any good that might come of such action is far overshadowed by the harm it will do in the state where people unfamiliar with the facts cannot know that the charges were brought by only .01% of the student body. What's all the rumpus in Lexington about anyway?

Honor Here? . . . There?

What would happen if you were caught cheating at another university? The punishment—cut grades, expulsion, or a campus, is determined by the system used in the college. There are about three standard methods: 1) strict faculty supervision with severe penalties when caught; 2) the so-called honor system; and the 3) "oh-well-they're-going-to-cheat-anyway-so-why-bother" method.

Few students approve of the grammar school system of having the professor stand over them with an all-seeing stare. One expects to hear "You will remain for an hour after class." And many condemn the honor system as too idealistic—of making each student his brother's keeper, without ever quite attaining the true standard of honor. At the University there is a combination of the three methods. Some departments put the students on their honor, some professors keep a watchful eye on any young man or woman with doubtful moral stamina, and other departments just ignore the fact that everyone cheats. Seldom is punishment more serious than lowered grades, a tongue-lashing or a "campus."

Whatever the method here, everyone will admit that it isn't working in any way except perhaps to encourage dishonesty.

Offly through a system demanding personal integrity can those standards of honor be attained. Unless the students themselves want to be honorable no amount of talk, or any laws can force them to be. But whether the "honor system" as such is or is not the solution for the University remains to be seen.

That it does work effectively at West Point, at William and Mary, at Vanderbilt, and at many girls' schools is a known fact. The law school at Duke University has reported that there have been no cases of cheating under their honor system. At Sweet Briar the system applies to every rule, academic and social, and the girl herself reports an infraction. She may be expelled if the offense is serious enough. Any violation of the system at VMI is a "shipping of fence." The trials of the honor court are held at night, and if a boy is found guilty he is marched into the barracks courtyard and before the whole corps is officially "drummed out." The charges are read, his trunk packed, and a taxi called.

While such a rigid method would be unwise in a large university, some of its points might serve as model. The gain to the young men from developing honest habits in school certainly compensates for the drastic measures taken for offenses.

An editorial in the publication of Southwestern University said recently of honor, "You can't see it, you can't touch it with your hand, but it is in Southwestern." It went on to remind the freshmen of the tradition of personal honor there which "rightfully attracts esteem." Would that UK could make a similar statement.

—And Now

• Members of the Student Union Dance committee are asking that students support their plans to have a top-flight band for the spring formal by buying the tickets which will go on sale Monday. If we want a big band here this seems like the chance to show it. The tickets of $5 drag and $3.50 stag do sound expensive but that is a price which would have to be paid to bring any band of importance here.

• Even flirting has acquired an international flavor, with the campus operators accompanying the old familiar once-over of the female passing by with a remark in French, German or Italian.

• Dubbed the "Little Congress," the Veterans' club and several of its members have been much in the news lately. The club must now recognize the responsibility that comes with being in the eye of the public. Much attention discloses faults as well as the best qualities—and there has been criticism off and on the campus. Most of the criticism has been caused by individuals who have used the appeal of the name "veteran" to attain their own ends, without representing either the club or the whole campus group. They seem to think, as one ex-serviceman expressed it, "that the world owes them a living." But the majority of vets heartily disapprove of this attitude and realize that their influence should be used judiciously and unselfishly. The record so far is excellent, but the time has come to realize there is a price to pay for power—responsibility.

Life, Liberty, and Pursuit

By Adele Denman

FLASH! Walter Meade has found a room!

Life:
These new men are money mad, and consequently looking for mad money. If one approaches them about joining an organization on the campus, they immediately want to be president. When you reply that they may be some day, they ask how much they will be paid. A striking example of this desire for economic advancement occurred the other day when a strictly anonymous man was being shown around Jewell hall for the first time. His guide pointed out various points of interest, including Miss Poole's room, the habitation of the head resident of the dorm. Several days after his tour of the dorm, he was explaining to a friend, that one could even make money in a girl's dorm. "Take Jewell hall for instance; some gal really a good deal. She's started a joint called Missie's Poolroom and must really be cleaning up!"

Spring planting certainly must be uppermost in the minds of Louisville residents these days. Last week one of our coeds casually dropped into the Louisville library in search of a book of poetry called Leaves of Grass by Walt Whitman. After a long and tiring search she found the book filed under SEED CATALOGUES.

INCIDENT OF THE WEEK:
A dog's life and that of a librarian are about the same. Several weeks ago a woman called the University library to ask if the word corpus was the feminine form of the word corps.

Liberty:
Phalanx has decided to do something more than plant trees for a change. Now it is closing and financing a promising boy from one of the poorer sections of the city. This is a hint to the wise for some other organizations who don't even plant trees.

SAYING OF THE WEEK:
"We get a bite of learning here, swallow a drink of culture there. Our professors try to burp us like mothers do their babies, but still we swallow everything so quickly that no wonder we suffer from intellectual indigestion."

The following poem has been circulating around the law school like mad. The great man who wrote it will never be found out, but since the lawyers like it, well, how could you fail to appreciate it:

Twenty-five Harvard Law Review
Johnny Jones came back from service
With thoughts of what to do
And now he's spending all his time
With twenty-five Harvard Law Review.

The dean in his office,
His sec' was in there too,
A takin' down notations
On twenty-five Harvard Law Review.

Now if there is some negligence
A couple of torts or two,

The dean's answer to the proposition
Is in twenty-five Harvard Law Review.

He says, "Now men I've got to hurry.
We have several cases to do.
I wish I had more time to discuss this case."

Read twenty-five Harvard Law Review.

"Now whom have I neglected?
Most anyone will do.
This case held . . . ? Ye Gods, man
Read twenty-five Harvard Law Review."

"Now we've studied Heaven v. Pender
And we've studied the Mariner too.
If you want to know how the cases differ
Read twenty-five Harvard Law Review."

The 11:50 bell had sounded.
The 12 o'clock bell had too.
But the dean was still assigning
From twenty-five Harvard Law Review.

Now the purpose of this nonsense
Is not all nonsense too;
Cause the chow line problem isn't mentioned
In twenty-five Harvard Law Review.

By an admirer of Dean Evans,
I think his faults are few.
His mind is so well developed
He understands twenty-five Harvard Law Review.

Pursuit:

Pinning of the Week: Dick Beal and Nancy Sherrow.

One would almost think that Jim Maher lives in the ZTA house. Holly Cain would be useful for selling real estate, if she can attract people to a house that way.

Tish Haymes and Bill Whitehead seem to have a nice little time.
Betty Oats and Johnny Owens are going strong.

Audrey Huffacker has decided for Mae instead of Bob.
Rats Bowen and Sue Ann Turley must have a lot to talk about every afternoon.

Joe Holland knocks everyone down to get out of class in time to see Betty Priestly.

One of our coeds who has been much disturbed by the way Dick Lynn and Bob Simpson have been

Kiwanians Endorse University Program

The following resolution was passed by the Lexington Kiwanis club on Tuesday:

WHEREAS, the University of Kentucky is now engaged in a program having for its purpose the expansion of its scholastic and athletic activities and, in order to further this program, it is seeking additional funds in the form of voluntary contributions from the public and increased appropriations from the State Legislature; and WHEREAS, the success of this program is highly essential if the University is to assume its rightful place among other State Universities, and also if it is to meet adequately the increased demands which are now being made upon it, particularly by those who have served in the armed forces;

NOW, THEREFORE,
BE IT RESOLVED, by the Kiwanis Club of Lexington, Ky., that we heartily and publicly endorse the expansion program of the University of Kentucky, and that we commend it to the people of Kentucky, and to the alumni and other friends of the University beyond the confines of the Commonwealth.

A few Zetas are traveling to the other end of the state for the Kentucky-Vanderbilt game, but a large crowd is not predicted. These girls will be the guests of a sorority sister, Miss Dorothy Tisworth, who lives in Paducah. They are Charlotte Ferguson, Mary Nell White, Polly Spillik, and Shorty Reynolds. Active and pledges of Omicron chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity were entertained Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Harris on Hart Road. Supper was served and a song and stunt session followed. Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Townsend and Miss Wander Scrivener assisted in entertaining. Thirty-five persons were present.

Xi chapter of Alpha Xi Delta entertained faculty and staff members with a tea Sunday. Pat Thomas was in charge of arrangements. Bill Settemeyer, Lexington, has been elected president of the pledge class of Kappa Sigma. Billy Gault, Lexington, was named vice-president, and Jimmy Maher, Ludlow, was named secretary-treasurer. Beta Nu of Kappa Sigma entertained with a buffet supper at the chapter house Friday night in honor of actives, pledges and their guests. Capt. Robert Ellison, Kappa Sig of the University military department, was a guest. Kappa Sig will give an active party tonight at the house.

Pledges of Alpha Chi of Zeta Tau Alpha will entertain with an informal tea for all sorority pledges from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday at the chapter house.

Tuesday night, the Thetas entertained with a buffet supper for the Trideltis at the Theta house. Louise Jewett was in charge of the arrangements.

From Monday through Thursday, William Hindman, grand secretary of Sigma Phi Epsilon, was a guest at the Kentucky Alpha chapter house.

Prior to the Eastern State Teacher's College-University of Louisville basketball game Wednesday night, the Phi Delta Thetas played a preliminary game with the veteran's club of Morehead.

The Pi Kappa Alphas announce the following pledge class officers: president, Henry Ford; vice-president, William Wash; secretary, William Blue, and treasurer, Phil Pearce.

Tonight, the Sigma Chis will entertain with a Valentine dance at the Sigma Chi house. The house will be decorated with big hearts to carry out the Valentine theme. The dance, which will last from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 p.m., will be arranged by John Allen, social chairman.

Also tonight, the Kappa Sigma pledges will entertain with a stag party at the chapter house for the Kappa Sig actives.

Tomorrow afternoon from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. the Thetas will give a party in honor of the SAE's. Arrangements will be made by the newly-organized Mothers' club of Kappa Alpha Theta.

The Zeta Tau Alphas will entertain with an open house, tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m., in honor of all men on the campus.

The Kappa Alpha Theta house will be the scene of a slumber party tomorrow night for both actives and pledges.

Preceding the Interfraternity council dance next week-end, Tommy McKinley will entertain the Phi Deltis and their dates with a buffet dinner at his home.

Delta Tau Delta has made plans to hold a joint initiation ceremony with their chapter at the University of Cincinnati, which will be held Sunday in Cincinnati.

Because the Delta house at the University is occupied by Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, the Kentucky chapter decided to hold its initiation with the Cincinnati chapter.

A Delta Tau Delta party in honor of wives and dates was held last Friday evening in the Fireside room at Springhurst.

Deltas returned from the service and present were Carter Brumfield, former president, Elliott Peel, and Dick Stophor.

Jack Reed was in charge of arrangements.

A Kappa Kappa Gamma open house will be held tomorrow from 3:30 to 5:30 at the chapter house, 1410 Audubon drive. Elizabeth Taylor is in charge of arrangements. The Kappas will also hold their annual founders' day banquet Tuesday at the Lafayette hotel.

Champ Stophor was recently elected president of the Sigma Chi pledge class. Other newly elected officers include Francis Lewis, vice-president, and William Branch, secretary-treasurer.

TIME OUT!

By O. C. Halyard, Jr.

Outstanding in the Michigan State game Saturday night was the spirit shown by the students. The crowd showed more interest and enthusiasm during this game than during any other previous one this year. The spirit shown in the Michigan State game could only be rivaled by that expected in a Kentucky-Tennessee game. The students started cheering at the opening whistle and as the game grew faster and more furious the yelling grew in volume. This type of school spirit is what Kentucky has been needing for a long time and now that we have the spirit—let's try to keep it.

It was a rough and tumble game all of the way—probably one of the roughest ever played in Alumni gym. The Wildcats had 26 fouls called against them whereas the Spartans accumulated 22.

The little umpire from Chicago named Craig must have been trying to form an anti-Craig league here at Kentucky. In spite of the fact that he was the smallest man on the floor, he started off by picking on big Wallace Jones, and after calling the second foul against "our boy Wah Wah" in the opening minutes of play, we thought the crowd was going to blow him out of the place with the wind from their boos. That double foul between Jones, No. 17, and Roberts, No. 17, was the first called in Alumni gym this season.

In our opinion the outstanding Kentucky player of the night was Buddy Parker. The determined look he had on his face was enough not to mention the three field goals—two in the last minute of play—that he contributed to Kentucky's cause.

Surprise of the week was Fort Benning's 34-32 win over Tennessee. Earlier in the year, Kentucky ran over Fort Benning by 56 points, 81-25. Where does this place the Vols?

Both Notre Dame and West Virginia went down in defeat after running their winning streak to 13. When Kentucky went down in defeat to Notre Dame, the Cats' win count was also 13. ... Who's superstitious?

Candidates for the tennis team held a meeting last Saturday afternoon. There were 16 boys present and Dr. Downing explained that he had the names of six others who were not able to attend the meeting.

He has scheduled the following games: April 24, Cincinnati (there); April 27, Michigan State (here); May 8, Cincinnati (here); May 11, Notre Dame (here). Plans are also being made for the team to take a five-day southern trip during which they will play Western, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Georgia Tech.

The team would play Western May 1, Vandy May 2, Tennessee May 3, and Georgia Tech May 4. Then they would return home Sunday, May 5.

Games will also be scheduled with Berea, Georgetown, and several other nearby schools.

Dr. Downing announced that he planned to have another meeting of the candidates soon. Anyone interested in tennis should see him as soon as possible.

Volleyball, boxing and wrestling entries must be in by February 13. Tournaments start February 18 and March 4 in order of the above mentioned. The ping-pong deadline is March 1 with the tournament starting March 4.

All men interested in becoming intramural managers should contact Bill McCubbin at the Men's gym from 3 to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday. Managers will be awarded sweaters with a small "K."

Scoring Passes 1,000; All Time Record May Be Smashed

Kentucky passed the 1,000-point mark in team scoring last week and plowed on toward a new team record in point making.

Points made in the thrilling and impressive 59-51 victory over powerful Michigan State sent the Wildcats' scoring total to 1,009 in 17 games for an average of 59 points a game. The 59-37 victory over Vanderbilt kept the average at 59 and ran the total up to 1,068 in 18 games. The all-time record for a Wildcat team was set last year when the Kentuckians amassed 1,464 points in 26 games for an average of 56 a tilt.

The Kentuckians face Vanderbilt again this Saturday night and hope to fatten their scoring average. The game will be the next to last contest with Southeastern competition until the Southeastern Conference Tournament which will be held in Louisville, February 28 and March 1 and 2.

Last Two Tests

Coach Rupp's team probably will face their last great tests of the regular season when they play the University of Tennessee Volunteers at Lexington on February 16 and Ohio University in Athens, Ohio, on February 19. The Wildcats defeated the Vols, 50-32, at Knoxville on January 19, and Ohio U., 57-48, on January 5 in Lexington.

Whitlow Arrives; Bostick Leaves

Paul (Bear) Bryant, Kentucky's new football coach, will view his football inheritance for the first time Monday, Feb. 11, when spring football practice begins at Stoll field.

The new coaching staff at Kentucky got together for the first time last week when Kenneth Whitlow, former All-American center at Rice, arrived in town. Earlier, Frank Moseley, a former coach at Kentucky, and Carney Laslie had reported from Maryland, where they teamed with Whitlow last season in assisting Bryant.

Lew Bostick, the only carryover from last year's coaching staff at the Wildcat school, dropped out of the picture this week when it was announced that he would be an assistant to Coach Frank Thomas at Alabama. Bostick's transfer to the Crimson Tide, it was stated, was made with the approval of Kentucky's new head coach.

Coach Bryant said he was not ready yet to release the name of a successor to Bostick.

The schedule that Bryant's first team will play, announced Saturday by Athletic Director Bernie A. Shively, follows:

Sept. 21—Mississippi	Lexington
Sept. 28—Cincinnati	Cincinnati
Oct. 5—Xavier of Cincinnati
	Lexington
Oct. 12—Georgia	Athens, Ga.
Oct. 19—Vanderbilt	Lexington
Oct. 26—Alabama	site to be determined by Alabama
Nov. 2—Michigan State	Lexington
Nov. 9—Marquette	Milwaukee
Nov. 16—West Virginia	Lexington
Nov. 23—Tennessee	Knoxville

Kentucky To Play Vandy In Paducah

The University of Kentucky Wildcats, defeating the Vanderbilt Commodores of Nashville last Monday night by a margin of over 20 points, will meet the Vandy quintet at Paducah tomorrow night. The Kentuckians played below par in their game last Monday but overcame the opponents in easy fashion to take over first place in the Southeastern Conference.

According to the athletic association, the reason for playing the game at Paducah is to give Kentucky fans in that area a chance to see the Wildcats perform.

Leading scorers for Kentucky were Jack Tingle and Ralph Beard who looped through 16 points apiece. Substitutions were not used as free-

Jack Parkinson who has registered 195 points. He is followed closely by Jack Tingle with 179; Ralph Beard with 163 and Wallace Jones with 158. Wilbur Schu, the other regular, has accounted for 101 points, but he missed the first four games of the season. Joe Holland, who started regularly until Schu became eligible, has counted 81 points, 47 of them as a replacement for Schu or Tingle.

Many observers thought Wilbur Schu, senior forward of the Wildcats, would have a hard time winning back his regular starting berth on the front line of the Kentucky offense.

Things looked dark for the veteran as Joe Holland was playing superb ball, scoring well and rebounding capably. Holland, a sophomore transfer from the Iowa Seahawks, played in Schu's position in the first four games of the season. Schu was ineligible because of scholastic difficulties and when he did become eligible, Holland continued to start every game.

When the Kentuckians invaded Madison Square garden, Holland was in the starting lineup. "Where's Schu?" asked New Yorkers, who remembered the big Kentuckian's merciless bombardment of the hoop in previous garden appearances. Schu had always been a favorite with spectators in the garden for his expert handling of the ball and the way he hogged the board.

The fans that night were not long in finding out where he was. When the Kentucky cause did not go too well in the opening minutes of the game, Coach Rupp called on Battle-Worn Wilbur, knee brace and all.

Schu registered 18 points, and Kentucky won, 73-59.

Now, the rangy forward, who has one of the best left-handed shots in the business, is back in the Kentucky lineup, and he promises to stay there. Although he is not the flashy type, that carries away the glory of every game he is known as a money player who plays best when the chips are down. His 13 points against Michigan State helped Kentucky's cause toward victory.

Wildcats Win 15th And 16th; Take Fourth S.E.C. Victory

By "Scoop"

Scoring 59 points in each game, the Wildcats marked up two more victories on their record. Monday night's win over Vanderbilt gave them four wins in as many starts against Southeastern conference competition.

Saturday night's 59-51 win over Michigan State wasn't as great as the eight-point difference in score might indicate. It was a rough, hard fought, close game all the way until the last minute of play when Parker put through two field goals to end the scoring.

The Cats left for Nashville the next afternoon, and had little trouble overcoming the Commodores 59-37. All nine men, who made the trip in private cars, saw action.

Tingle and Beard led the scoring parade Monday night with 16 points each. Jones was close behind with 13. Whereas in the Michigan State game, it was Schu and Parkinson a whole, found the range and played a good brand of ball since the Notre Dame encounter. In the Georgia Tech game which came immediately after the Louisville trip, the Cats appeared to still be in their slump. The game with Michigan State, decidedly one of Kentucky's stronger opponents, showed that the Wildcats were still rather tame.

However, now that the team seems to have snapped out of it, they stand a good chance of completing the season without another defeat.

The game with Michigan State was considerably rougher than the one with Vandy and furnished more excitement for the spectators. Both games were played before capacity crowds. The crowd in Nashville was the largest to see a Vanderbilt game this year, and last Saturday night Alumni gym was packed with more fans than any other time this year.

Jones' outstanding play high-lighted both events. But the play Jones, who played just a little over half of the game, accounting for 12. The Vanderbilt game seemed to be the first time that the team, as out of their slump.
